

Hello, my name is Alyssa Bond, I am 37 years old and am a longtime resident of Chetwynd. I am currently in the SSWD program at NLC and am in my second year. Upon completion of my diploma, I intend to continue my formal education to obtain a degree in Social Work. I currently have a cumulative GPA of 4.164, and I provide tutoring for fellow students in Criminology and Social Services classes. Spending the past decade working in social service positions including WorkBC and our local shelter, combined with being a strong activist for student rights along with human rights, I am a great candidate for the Chetwynd campus' student council.

When I was eighteen, living in Prince George, I went into 4th Class Power Engineering at the College of New Caledonia and served on their student council as the satellite campus liaison/coordinator, as well as served on Education Council and the Board of Governors. I am a strong student activist and delivered impactful speeches at the Canadian Federation of Students' national meetings held twice a year in Ottawa and Gatineau as well as attended meetings every six weeks in the lower mainland to represent all the students at the College of New Caledonia including every satellite campus.
